STAMP AND LEGACY DUTIES, ETC.

The following is a list of Stamp Duties according to the schedule of the Act 33 and 34 Vict. c. 97 (amended by 34 Vict. c. 4, 34 and 35 Vict. c. 103, and 35 and 36 Vict. c. 20, and other Acts), with the Duty on Policies of Insurance, Patent Medicine, and Plate, and Inventory, Legacy, and Succession Duties, which remain under the former Acts. Generally, the items are given in the words of the schedule. When the sections are merely cited without the Act, they are the sections of 33 and 34 Vict. c. 97. All items in the schedule of the Act relating solely to England and Ireland are excluded. In the same session were passed the Acts 33 and 34 Vict. c. 98, Stamp Duties Management, and 33 and 34 Vict. c. 99, repealing certain enactments relating to the Stamp Duties. The Duties came into operation on the 1st January 1871.

The exemptions in other Acts in force are preserved (§ 3).

The attention of the public may be directed to the following matters:—

1. The general deed duty, or duty on a deed not otherwise charged, is reduced to 10s.

2. Progressive duty on words is not imposed.

3. Provisions are made for charging ad valorem duty on conveyances in respect of periodical payments or annuities.—§ 72.

4. An agreement for a lease for a term not exceeding 35 years is to be charged with the lease duty.—§ 96.

5. An instrument chargeable as a lease in consideration, in whole or in part, of produce or other goods—

Where it is stipulated that the value shall amount to or not exceed a given sum, ad valorem lease duty on such sum.

A statement in the lease in regard to the value of such produce or goods to be conclusive as to stamp duty, unless and until shown to be incorrect.—§ 97.

6. A notarial instrument is liable to the same duty as an instrument of seisin—to wit, 5s.

7. Any instrument specifically charged by any previous Act with the duty of 35s. is chargeable with the duty of 10s.—§ 4.

8. Instruments relating to the property of the Crown, and to the private property of the sovereign, are liable to same duties as instruments relating to the property of the subject.—§ 5.

9. Instruments are to be so stamped that the stamp may appear on the face of the instrument, and cannot be applied to any other instrument written upon the same piece of material.—§ 7 (1). Every instrument on the same piece of material is to be separately stamped.—§ 7 (2).

10. Instruments relating to several distinct matters are to be separately stamped in respect of each.—§ 8 (1). An instrument liable to ad valorem duty, if made for any other valuable consideration, is to be charged in respect of it as if it were a separate instrument for such.—§ 8 (2).

11. An appropriated stamp (by word on the face of it) cannot be used for an instrument of another description.—§ 9 (1). An instrument of the description to which a stamp is appropriated is not to be duly stamped unless stamped with the stamp appropriated to it.—§ 9 (2).

12. All the facts and circumstances affecting the liability of an instrument to ad valorem duty, or the amount of it, are to be fully and truly set forth. If not, penalty on person who executes and on person concerned in the preparation, £10.—§ 10.

13. Instrument chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of money in foreign or colonial currency, the duty to be calculated on the value in British currency, according to the current rate of exchange at the date of the instrument.—§ 11.

14. Instrument chargeable with ad valorem duty in respect of stock or marketable security, the duty to be calculated on the value, according to the average price at the date of the instrument.—§ 12.

15. If the instrument contains a statement of the current rate of exchange, or average price, and is stamped accordingly, it is to be deemed duly stamped until statement shown to be untrue, and that the instrument is in fact insufficiently stamped.—§ 13.

16. The duties apply to instruments executed in the United Kingdom, and to instruments, where-soever executed, relating to property situated, or to any matter or thing done or to be done, in the United Kingdom.—§ 17. [Transfer of share registered in a Colonial register under Companies (Colonial Registers) Act, 1883, deemed transfer of property situated out of United Kingdom, and, unless executed in any part of United Kingdom, exempt from British stamp duty.—46 and 47 Vict. c. 30, § 3 (7), (a).]

17. No instrument, except in criminal proceedings, shall be pleaded or given in evidence, or admitted to be good, useful, or available in law or equity, unless it is duly stamped in accordance with the law in force when executed.—§ 17.

Notwithstanding provision in local or private Act, probate, administration or confirmation necessary to establish right to recover any part of estate and effects of deceased person situated in United Kingdom—provision not applicable to life policy dated before 1st July 1884; also not applicable to policies granted after that date where insurance companies deduct duty and pay it to the revenue. (47 and 48 Vict. c. 62, § 11.)

PROPERTY LIABLE TO THE DUTY.—Generally—All personal property (heritable securities are personal property which include bonds of annual rent and bonds of annuity and real burdens on land, but not securities by absolute disposition qualified by back bond) belonging to the deceased in the United Kingdom, heritable securities, and bonds excluding executors, and also money secured by ex facie absolute dispositions. (48 Geo. III. c. 149, § 38, etc.; 55 Geo. III. c. 184, Schedule, Part III.; 21 & 22 Vict. c. 56, §§ 9, 12, 13, etc.; and 16 & 17 Vict. c. 59, § 8; 31 & 32 Vict. c. 101, §§ 3 and 117; 37 & 38 Vict. c. 94, § 30; and 23 & 24 Vict. c. 80.)

Personal Property—Absolute power of disposal.—Personal estate which a person dying after 3d April 1860 shall have disposed of by will, under any authority enabling such person to dispose of the same as he shall think fit, shall be deemed personal or moveable estate of the person so dying, for the purpose of payment of inventory, probate, or administration duty. (23 Vict. c. 15, § 4.)

Indian Promissory Notes—Ships.—Indian Government promissory notes and certificates issued, or stock in lieu thereof, being assets of a deceased person, the interest of which shall be payable in London, registered in London, or enfaced in India for the purpose of such registration, before the death of the owner; also Indian Government promissory notes with coupons attached, in the same circumstances as to registration, and certificates issued, or stock created in lieu thereof, shall be personal estate and bona notabilia in England of the deceased person (23 Vict. c. 5, § 1): Also any ship, or any share of a ship, belonging to a deceased person, registered in any port in the United Kingdom, notwithstanding such ship at the time of the death may have been at sea, or elsewhere out of the United Kingdom, shall be deemed to be at the port at which she may be registered (27 & 28 Vict. c. 56), and liable to inventory, probate, or administration duty.

Specialty Debts.—For probate and administration duty, debts and sums of money due from persons in the United Kingdom to a deceased on obligation or other specialty, shall be estate and effects of the deceased within the jurisdiction of Her Majesty's Court of Probate in England or Ireland in which the same would be if they were debts upon simple contract, without regard to the place where the obligation or specialty shall be at the time of the death. (25 Vict. c. 22, § 39.)

Foreign Bonds and Stocks.—Documents of the debts of foreign governments and foreign companies which pass from hand to hand are property where the documents may be. Debentures or bonds by foreign companies and governments, and the title to stocks of foreign companies and governments, are property in this country if in the possession of any person in this country, and can be sold in the market, and the title of the purchasers completed to them in this country. See Attorney-General v. Bouwens, 4 Meeson and Welsby 171.

Companies—Colonial Registers.—Companies under the Companies Acts whose objects comprise business in a Colony may have a branch register of members resident in said Colony. The share of a deceased member registered in such Colonial register shall be part of the estate of such deceased member for inventory duty, in like manner as if the registration had been in the registered office of the company. (46 & 47 Vict. c. 30, § 3 (7) (b).)

Rents of Heritage.—If the deceased survive Whitsunday, one moiety of the rents of the crop of that year is personal estate. If he survive Martinmas, the whole rents of that crop fall into the executory. In addition, from and after 1st August 1870, the Act 33 & 34 Vict. 1870, c. 35, would seem to give the executor a proportion of the rents from the term preceding the date of death to the date of death. That Act would also seem to give a proportion of the term's rents of quarries, minerals, and houses, and also feu-duties current at the death. The executor's right to house rents would not therefore be to the half-year's rents current at death, but to a proportion only to the date of death.

Property taken as a donation mortis causa, or by inter vivos Disposition or Transfer within three months before death—Property, the beneficial interest in which accrues by survivorship—Property passing under voluntary settlement, an interest for life or an absolute power of revocation being reserved to the Settlor.—Such property, being that of a person dying on or after 1st June 1881, is liable to stamp duties at the like rates as charged on inventories. (44 Vict. c. 12, § 38.)

The duties are payable on an account, forms of which and relative affidavit may be obtained at the Inland Revenue Office (Legacy and Succession Duty Department).

MODES IN WHICH DUTY MAY BE PAID.

When deceased domiciled in Scotland.—In the case of a person dying domiciled in Scotland having personal property in Scotland, England, and Ireland, and also heritable securities excluding executors, and personal bonds excluding executors, duty in respect of the whole may be paid on the inventory required to be recorded in the Sheriff Court; or inventory duty may be paid on the personal property situated in Scotland, including heritable securities made moveable by the Act 31 & 32 Vict. c. 101, § 117, and duty may be paid on a 'special inventory' of the heritable securities excluding executors, and personal bonds excluding executors, and probate or administration may be obtained in England and Ireland in respect of the personal estate in these countries, and duty paid in respect of such on these instruments.

When deceased domiciled furth of the U. K.—In case of a person dying domiciled furth of the United Kingdom leaving personal estate in Scotland, England, and Ireland, an inventory must be given up in Scotland, probate or administration taken out in England and Ireland, and duty paid on such in respect of the property in each country.

In exhibiting inventories after 1st June 1881, the amount of debts due and owing by the deceased to persons in the United Kingdom, and funeral expenses, may be deducted from the value of the estate for the purpose of paying the inventory duty. The amount of such to be delivered with or annexed to the inventory. The debts not to include debts payable on death, or payable under instruments not bona fide delivered three months before death. The Commissioners of Inland Revenue, within three years, may call for evidence of the contents of, or particulars verified by, the inventory.

Where the gross estate of a deceased person dying after 1st June 1881 does not exceed £300, and the estate exceeds £100, if an inventory shall be given up in accordance with the special provisions of the Act, the duty to which the inventory is liable is 30s. (44 Vict. c. 12, § 34.)

Additional and Corrective Inventories.—If there shall be any omission in the inventory inferring the payment of further duty, an additional inventory is required to be exhibited (48 Geo. III. c. 149, § 38; 16 and 17 Vict. c. 59, § 8). The stamp on the additional inventory is required to be of an amount sufficient to make up the stamp duty in respect of the total amount of all the estate. If the estate shall be over-estimated, or if something shall be improperly included in the inventory, a corrective inventory, duly stamped, requires to be exhibited. Allowance of the original inventory as a spoiled stamp will be obtained within six months after the recording of the second inventory.

RETURN OF INVENTORY DUTY.

The inventory duty and probate and administration duty are paid on the whole personal property, without deduction of debts; but the Act 5 & 6 Vict. c. 79, § 23, provides for a return being given on proof of the constitution and payment of the debts. This return must be claimed within three years; but the time will be prolonged on application to the Board of Inland Revenue. No return to be granted in respect of a voluntary debt due from a person dying after 28th June 1861, expressed to be payable on the death of such person, or payable under an instrument which shall not have been bona fide delivered to the donee three months before the death of such person. (24 & 25 Vict. c. 92, § 3.)

Note.—Forms of inventory and additional inventory will be found in the Juridical Styles, vol. III. App. pp. 8–11. Forms of inventories, and also regulations for return of inventory duty, may be obtained at the Legacy Duty Office, Inland Revenue, Edinburgh.

This duty is payable for every legacy out of the personal or moveable estate, or out of or charged upon the real or heritable estate of the deceased, or out of any estate which he has power to dispose of, or out of any moneys to arise by the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of the deceased's real or heritable estate, or any part thereof: Also for the clear residue (after deducting debts, funeral expenses, legacies, and other charges first payable thereout) of the personal or moveable estate, whether the title to such residue shall accrue by virtue of any testamentary disposition, or upon a partial or total intestacy: And also for the clear residue of the moneys to arise from the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of any real or heritable estate, directed to be sold, mortgaged, or otherwise disposed of by any will or testamentary instrument.

SUCCESSION DUTY.

(16 and 17 Vict. c. 51.)

The duty commenced on the death of persons dying after the 19th May 1853, and seems to be imposed on all property, both heritable and moveable, passing by death, not liable to the duty on legacies and successions to personal estate upon intestacy—the duty imposed by the Legacy Duty Acts.

The duty on HERITABLE PROPERTY is charged on the annual value, after allowance of the necessary outgoings (§ 22), as an annuity for the life of the successor (§ 21), which is to be valued by tables annexed to the Act.

PERSONAL PROPERTY is liable to duty according to the value of the succession; and money charged on heritage—heritable securities—is charged as personality (§ 1).

HACKNEY CARRIAGES IN EDINBURGH.

FARES BY DISTANCE.

The distance to which any hackney carriage may be driven under these Bye-laws shall be seven miles from the Cross of Edinburgh.

(1.) When a party not exceeding two grown-up persons, and without any luggage other than a carpet-bag or the like, enters a carriage at a stance, or when driving along disengaged, they shall be driven half a mile for 6d.; and if they return, they shall pay the same fare. The driver shall draw up to either side of the street when called; and if detained more than five minutes before starting, he shall be entitled to 6d. for waiting.

N.B.—This rule shall not apply to fares from railway stations.

(2.) Excepting the Sixpenny Fare, the fares by distance shall be shown in the annexed Table of Fares. The charges in the table shall include going from the stance or stable to the hirer's residence, and waiting ten minutes. But if the carriage be detained, before starting, more than ten minutes, a charge for waiting at the rate of 6d. for each quarter of an hour, or part thereof, after the expiry of the ten minutes, shall be allowed; and if the place where the hirer is to be taken up be beyond a mile from the stance or stable whence the carriage is taken, there shall be a charge of 6d. for such distance.

(3.) There shall be no charge for waiting while a hackney carriage is on the way to a destination unless the waiting before starting and the waiting by the way exceeds in all ten minutes; and when such waiting exceeds ten minutes it shall be charged for in terms of Section 2 of this bye-law. There shall be no charge for a short deviation from the direct route.

(4.) The fare to any place not mentioned in the table shall be the same as that to any place mentioned therein which is in the immediate vicinity.

(5.) When the fare of any particular place not mentioned cannot be ascertained by reference to a place in the immediate vicinity, the fare shall be 1s. for any distance not exceeding a mile and a half for one or two passengers; 1s. for any distance not exceeding one mile for three or four passengers; and 6d. for every additional half-mile, or part thereof, for any number of passengers not exceeding four.

(6.) Half fare returning with the party, excepting the half-mile drive.

(7.) When parties return (which they shall have the option of doing), and the fare going is 1s., the carriage shall wait ten minutes without any charge for waiting; when 1s. 6d., fifteen minutes; when 2s. and upwards, twenty minutes. #### NEW NON-FORFEITURE REGULATIONS.

The principle of Non-Forfeiture has recently been adopted by this Society to its fullest extent, so that when a Policy has acquired a surrender value (generally after payment of three years' premiums), that value will not be forfeited by failure to pay the premium, but, if not paid to the Policy-holder in cash, will be applied to keep the Policy in force, under certain conditions, either temporarily for its full amount until the value is wholly exhausted, or permanently for a reduced amount.

POSITION OF THE SOCIETY AT 1st MARCH 1884.

The Existing Assurances, including Bonus Additions, were	£9,492,565
The Annual Revenue was	358,073
And the Accumulated Funds were	2,744,842

The Accumulated Fund is 11·4 times the premiums of the year, and is 30·7 per cent of the existing assurances after deduction of the re-insurances of £548,372.

The Premiums on Whole-Life Policies are now calculated by half-years of age, so that those who insure within six months after a birthday will be charged a lower rate of premium than hitherto.

Most of the Policies after Five Years' endurance are freed from all conditions, except the payment of the Ordinary Premium.

SETTLEMENT POLICIES, with special advantages, are granted under the 'Married Women's Policies of Assurance (Scotland) Act, 1880,' free from all claims of creditors in the event of subsequent insolvency.

LOANS granted in connection with life insurance, on Life Interests, Reversions, and other approved Security. Reversions purchased.

DEPOSITORS with this Company possess SECURITY of a high character. The Funds are lent over HERITABLE PROPERTIES WITHIN SCOTLAND. The Loans are, on the average, very moderate in amount, and in most cases are repayable by instalments embracing principal and interest, so that the margin of security is being steadily increased.

In addition to these Investments, the Company's UNCALLED CAPITAL, amounting to £180,000, furnishes a valuable Guarantee to Depositors; while the RESERVE FUND, amounting to £20,000, which is separately invested in BANK OF ENGLAND STOCK, affords a still further Security.

The Rate of INTEREST allowed on Deposits varies from 3 to  $7\frac{1}{4}$  per cent., according to the term for which the money is lodged.

The Arrangements with BORROWERS from the Company are simple and equitable. The Instalments (embracing Principal and Interest) by which Loans are repayable are moderate, and a portion of the sum advanced may lie at interest. No Commission or Fines are charged, and no Assessment made on Borrowers in name of additional interest dependent on the rise of the Bank Rates.

is open at all times, and any child in need of protection may be brought by any person who believes it to be aggrieved; the only limit, arranged in order to prevent imposition, and to avoid placing the Directors in a false position, is, that the consent of the child's parents has been obtained, or, that the case has been brought under the notice of the Police. Upwards of Fifty cases have already been received. The visits of Ladies and Gentlemen interested in poor children are cordially invited.

THE STOCKBRIDGE DAY NURSERY is open every day except Sunday, from 6 A.M. to 8 P.M., for the children of mothers obliged to work out. Children of Two Months old and upwards are received, and well fed and cared for; and upwards of Fifty are at present in attendance.

NEEDLEWORK AND KNITTING ARE ALSO DONE ON THE PREMISES.

The House of Mercy has been established to board, lodge, and train as domestic servants, girls who have no home or proper protection. Numbers of girls are being lost daily for want of those safeguards which a respectable home ensures, and which are so necessary for a girl in a city like Edinburgh. Those only who visit the very poorest and lowest localities can know the terrible dangers and temptations by which such girls are surrounded. It is idle to deplore the number of those who fall, and who, besides losing their own souls, bring many others to ruin, if strenuous efforts are not at the same time made to avert this evil. The SISTERS, therefore, confidently appeal to the charitable for assistance in a work which, they venture to think, can have no small claim on their sympathy and support.

Annual Subscriptions, however small, and Donations of Money, Food, or Clothes will be thankfully acknowledged by the Reverend Mother Superior, who will be happy to show Visitors over the Laundry on Thursdays and Fridays.

DANIEL MACKAY & CO.,
CAMERON BANK, NEWINGTON, EDINBURGH,

HAVE been employed as GARDEN ARCHITECTS in the various methods of designing and laying out KITCHEN and FLOWER GARDENS, PLANTATIONS, CARRIAGE DRIVES and other WALKS, and planting SHRUBS and TREES, over a period of Twenty-five years.

D. M. & CO. having acquired some experience, and having devoted considerable time during this long period to both Theory and Practice in the above vocations, are prepared to undertake the commands of any party requiring their service.

D. M. & CO. having found much difficulty in cases of planting to procure handsome Shrubs and Trees, resolved, in 1865, to grow these Plants, with the view of meeting the exigencies of their own trade specially, and have now succeeded in raising a small select Stock of Shrubs and Trees, thoroughly trained and frequently transplanted, which, for health, symmetry, and size, can be favourably compared with similar Plants in similar situations over Great Britain.

D. M. & CO. have great pleasure in recommending these Plants to all Parties about to plant. Those who may be disposed to inspect the Stock will find representatives of nearly all the Hardy Evergreen Shrubs worth cultivating.

'THE FLOWERS OF THE FOREST.'

Our ancient University has held its celebration,
 And Scotland's intellectual growth had fit commemoration;
 From Nature's Noblemen we turn to Nature's Forest Lords,
 And seek to catch the lessons which the 'Greenwood Tree' affords.

The brave old Oak, the fragrant Birch, the hardy mountain Pine,
 Will 'hold their own' where Forest Trees of many lands combine;
 Our Scottish woods in grandeur to the traveller now appear (Including Leckie's Boot-Tree, which has flourished many a year).

If the Tory Vote of Censure does not shuttier his position,
 The Grand Old Woodman might come down to see our Exhibition;
 But to get back without a scratch would need his utmost skill,
 For the Ladies of Mid-Lothian have 'a craw' with Bill.

He tramples upon Woman's Rights, and will not heed her wrongs,
 When seeking for the Suffrage, which to her of right belongs;
 To meet a Lady Conference, the Premier would be slow,
 Another 'Jenny Geddes' might arise, 'an' what for no'.

The Franchise Bill will shortly feel their Lordships' tender care,
 And if the Shoe should pinch them, they will have to grin and bear;
 It was not made to fit them, and when comes Redistribution,
 Two million votes will help to mend our ancient Constitution.

The Desert is but barren ground for winning Scottish fame,
 Yet Highlanders would rally round a Gordon or a Gratham.
 The flavouring of Egyptian hash the Great Powers will amuse;
 But where's the Politician that would stand in Gordon's Shoes?

'Within a mile o' Edinburgh' Toon' the Tourists, as of yore, Regale themselves with beauty, and our City sights explore.
 If the Maori Monarch comes to see our Highland 'Beas',
 Let him avoid Glenlivet, as he journeys through the Glens.

Let the Ladies look for Comfort now to Leckie's Summer Boots,
 Mankind has proved their merits in Life's various pursuits;
 They may be termed Handsome Boots—Cheap, Durable, and Neat, Supplied by JOSEPH LECKIE, Number 50 Cockburn Street.

FAREWELL, depressing, doleful year, we give thee scanty praise;
 But '85 has promised brighter hours and longer days.
 A.M. and P.M. are defunct; but bonnie Scotland sees,
 While one p.m. she loses, she will win twelve new M.P.'s.
 A year of pride and poverty, with heightened Income-tax,
 And trade depression adding to the burden on our backs;
 But when six million sterling we have spent upon our Navy,
 We're fit to send all other fleets to Mr. Jones (called Davy).
 The closing year reminded us of Gladstone's natal day,
 That vigorous youth of Seventy-five, who won the Franchise fray;
 And when the Highland Crofters have secured a new Land Bill,
 We'll praise him to the Skye (or skies) who works the People's will.
 The Boundary Commissioners will shortly take our measure.
 And try to fit our members into seats with ease and pleasure;
 Like Leckie, who has seats for all, with fitting Neat and Easy,
Free-Trade and Fair-Trade in full swing—the very thing to please ye.
 How fares it at New-year time with the horns of Khartoum?
 We trust that warlike Wolseley will penetrate the gloom;
 With a Black Watch on his movements, the ubiquitous Mahdi
 Will find Sandy on the desert, and the Highlanders from Skye.
 America's new President can reckon up his gains;
 May he and his supporters ne'er be troubled with chill-Blaines;
 May Chibamen and Frenchmen sign an armistice ere long;
 May wily Bismarck get a cup of Congo hot and strong.
 Death, Dynamite, and Earthquake led to woe and devastation;
 Prince Leopold's untimely death brought sorrow to the nation;
 The bold Bunsenclench paid Nature's due; so did the Zulu King;
 And blind, far-seeing Fawcett to the spirit land took wing.
 The Universe can never touch our Universe-itee.
 We had Gladstone in Mid-Lothian, we had the Forest-tree;
 Royal Visitors and Tourists—who were very loth to leave us,
 And some of them got perched upon the summit of Ben Nevis,
 The London 'Healtheries' achieved magnificent success,
 Like Leckie's Boots, which tend to health, and always must progress.
 A Good New Year to one and all!—seek Comfort for your Feet.

'THE NEW CLUB, KING'S ROAD, BRIGHTON, 23rd September 1884.

'MR. R. SMITH, DEAR SIR,—This morning I sent my own Belt and my little boy's "Lung Invigorator" to you to be remagnetized. I am very thankful to say your Belt has completely cured my leg, but I wish to have the Belt to wear, as I derive much benefit from it in addition to the good it has done my leg. I am by no means tired of recommending the use of these Appliances, which have proved within my own experience absolutely efficacious whenever fairly tried, and my hope is that this letter—which you are at perfect liberty to use as a testimonial—may lead many to at least try your Magnetic Appliances, for I have not the least doubt but that all who try them—though they may be as great unbelievers in their efficacy as I myself was—will eventually have as good reason to speak as loudly in their praise as has yours truly,

WORTHINGTON STEAM PUMPS

SIZE—9 × 5½ × 10 (fitted with extra side pipe and strainer).

THE valve motion is the important and characteristic peculiarity of this Pump, as being that to which it owes its complete immunity from noise or concussive action. Each pump has two steam cylinders and two double-acting plungers, and the slide valve of the one cylinder is worked by a lever which is actuated by the piston rod of the other, thus dispensing with the whole system of cranks, fly-wheels, loose tappets, and supplemental cylinders, all of which have been found in practice more or less objectionable.

The valve motion also allows of the plungers pausing at the end of each stroke sufficiently long to allow the water to fill the chambers and the valves to settle back in their places before the return stroke commences. This arrangement removes all shock and water-hammering, and makes the pumps peculiarly suitable for feeding boilers, and for other services where exceptionally high pressures have to be pumped against.

The 'WORTHINGTON' pumps are also positive in their action, the valve arrangement being such that they have no dead centre, but in every position of the stroke will start away the moment steam is admitted—a feature not to be met with in any single direct-acting or crank and fly-wheel pump.

Illustrated Catalogues and List of Prices may be had at the Office of the Company where also a 'WORTHINGTON' Steam Pump may be seen.

GALVANIZED WIRE TRELLISING,
No. 2.

Finished at top with Gothic Border, which gives it a finished-like appearance, and made in panels to suit walls. Prices on application.

BAIN, YOUNG, & CO. most respectfully draw the attention of their Customers and others to their mode of Galvanized Diamond Wire Trellising, for training Creeping or any other kind of Plants on front and side walls of Residences and Garden Walls, for Fruit Trees, etc., or on any site where the same may be required. The above Trellising has been extensively supplied and erected by them for many years, and has given entire satisfaction to Professors, and other authorities on Horticulture, who recommend it as being the best in use for training Plants, Fruit Trees, etc. The material being light, yet strong enough for the purpose for which it is required, and the Trellising being kept out from the wall, and the heat of the sun being equally dispensed in the Trellising and Plants, produces a wonderful effect, greatly helping the growth and health of the Plants, which speedily cover the wall in a most pleasant manner. From their great experience in this class of work, B., Y., & Co. will be glad to take measurements: or if measurements be sent, prices will be given, thus enabling their Customers to know the entire cost previous to the work being done.

ASPHALT FLOORING is highly recommended for Stables, Byres, Barns, Cattle Sheds, Granaries, Cottars' Houses, and all kinds of Farm Buildings, on account of its being the most effective preventive to the ascent and spread of Damp, its complete exclusion of Vermin, its neat and cleanly appearance, its durability and cheapness in comparison with other descriptions of flooring and pavement, and its healthy and disinfectant properties. While it effects a great saving, by the exclusion of rats and smaller vermin, owing to the close texture of the composition, without seam or joining, it keeps the Grain in a sweet state, from the entire absence of damp or moisture; and wherever the Asphalt Flooring has been used, it has fully realized all the benefits held out by its adoption.

UNDOUBTED SECURITY guaranteed by a large and fully Subscribed Capital.
 MODERATE RATES of Premium, based on an equitable system of Assessment.
 CLAIMS liberally and promptly settled.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

Actuary—T. E. YOUNG, B.A.

THE LIFE FUNDS are invested in the names of Special Trustees as Security for Claims on this Branch; and Life Policy-holders possess, in addition, the Security of the Paid-up Capital, £250,000, and the fully Subscribed and Uncalled Capital of £2,250,000, and the other Funds of the Company, the large extent of which will be seen on reference to the Company's printed Balance Sheet.

THE ASSURED are wholly free from liability in respect of the engagements of the Company.
 THE EXPENSES of MANAGEMENT, exclusive of commission, are limited by Deed of Settlement to a moderate percentage on the Premium Income.

FIXED MINIMUM SURRENDER VALUES are guaranteed on ordinary whole Life Policies after three years' duration; and such guarantee is endorsed upon the Policies themselves.

CLAIMS are paid one month after proof of death.

NEW LIBERAL CONDITIONS have been introduced into the Company's Policies (issued after October 1879), by which the limits of free residence and travel have been considerably extended; and such Policies, if effected for the whole term of Life, are, after five years' duration, and under certain conditions, rendered exempt from extra premiums for residence and travel abroad. Full particulars are contained in the Book Prospectus, a copy of which will be forwarded on application.

POLICIES NON-FORFEITABLE.

THE EDINBURGH LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY has made every Provision against the Forfeiture of Policies through omission or inability to continue the payment of Premiums.

1. A Free Paid-up Policy, for a Reduced Sum, may be obtained on application at any time after two Premiums have been paid, and while the original Policy is in force.
2. The time for payment of a Premium may be extended beyond the usual Thirty Days, on payment beforehand of a moderate fee.
3. After Three Years a Policy is not declared void for mere omission to pay a Premium. The Surrender-value being more than the Premium, the Policy is held in force until the next renewal date, subject to payment of the Premium, with a small charge in addition.

EXTRACT FROM "THE MERCANTILE AGE AND TEXTILE TIMES."
London, Glasgow, and Manchester, 3rd November, 1884.

It surely must be regarded with a degree of astonishment that an art so admirably calculated to advance the truest interests of mankind should have been discovered at so late a period; for up to the middle of the fifteenth century we hear little or nothing of the embryotic art of printing. We think that we have before stated that the first book printed was the one on the game of chess, which was completed on the last day of March, 1474. In an interesting note, well known to all hunters after scarce books, Caxton explains to his readers that the work is printed, "not wretton with penne and inke, as other bokes ben, to thende that every man may have them att ones, for all the bokes of this story, named the Recule of the histories of Troyes, thus enprinted as ye here see, were begone in oon day and also finished in oon day." Notice the "finished in one day." That was considered a wonderful thing then; but what would Caxton say now were he to come to the upper world of light and literature? The beautiful type, the splendid machines, the number of books, would absolutely dumbfounder him.

The art of printing in its present proportions, however, would not surprise him so much as the attendant invention of lithography. The books he printed, when they were to have illuminated borders, or be otherwise illustrated, had to undergo a long process of handwork with, in many cases, very unsatisfactory results; the books now illustrated can be produced as easily as though they were not; and the finest pictures by masterhands can be reproduced on paper by mechanical processes, in such perfection as to rival the original. It is a wonderful, great, and educational invention, and has done much to foster in the minds of the multitude a taste for beauty.

This is, indeed, more marvellous when we consider that the lithographic art has developed to its present proportions within seventy-five years, for it is about that time since Seneffelder—a celebrated musician connected with the theatre of Munich—introduced his system of litho writing in script and ornamental work. He discovered that the art of taking impressions from writings or drawings, transferred to stone, depended on the readiness with which calcareous stone imbibes water; its great disposition to adhere to resinous or oleaginous substance, and the disposition those substances have to combine, and to repel water, or any other substance moistened with water.

Shortly after the invention of the lithographic art came that of chromo-type, employing blocks for various coloured inks, the earliest and simplest of which was the printing of the red-letter days in almanacs, or the rubric in the Church of England prayer book. This has now developed to such great perfection, both as to the artistic drawing of the design, engraving of the block, and perfect registration, impression and hot pressing of the sheet, that we are compelled to rank it among the fine arts of the period.

As Mr BARLOW is one of the largest block printers in this country, we are pleased to include his establishment in our series of British industries, in which we have tried to show the present position, rather than the past history, of our national trade. Mr BARLOW commenced business in 1846 as a pyrotechnist, and gradually added other branches—flag, banner and tent manufacturer; and so late as fifteen or sixteen years ago he added to his other large industries letterpress, lithographic, and block printing—an idea of the magnitude of which may be gained by the following facts: The printing works consist of a six storeyed spacious building crowded with the most modern plant of printing presses and type that it has been our pleasure to inspect. On the ground floor there are ten large machines—from a small Minerva to a double super-royal, which are worked by a 14-h.p. horizontal engine. The second floor is used as a composing room, where there is an unusual variety of type suitable for general work, especially theatrical and circus bills and posters. Whilst we mention these specialities, we would not ignore the other founts of type which are suitable for general jobbing, especially law stationery, &c. Following our cicerone we ascended to the third floor, which is the lithographic section, in which are the usual presses and inkmills, the latter being driven by a separate horizontal engine; for Mr BARLOW grinds his own colours. Amongst the machines in this department there is one very excellent quod-crown, by George Mann of Leeds, having all the latest improvements. The fourth storey is the block store-room. When we mention the astounding fact that there are at least 6000 engraved blocks in this room, all double-demy size, we shall be excused from describing them in minutiae. Ascending again, we were ushered on to the sixth storey, where Mr BARLOW's designers and engravers were busily at work.

We may mention that the whole building is heated by the waste steam from the large boiler, situate in the basement, where the engineers' and mechanics' shops are.

Retracing our steps, we come to the front building, which we will briefly describe. On the basement there are innumerable store-rooms for decorative lamps—for there are thousands of variegated glass lamps always in stock—tents, marquees, and tent-fittings, there being always in stock upwards of 120 marquees and tents ready for hire; flag and banner poles, at least a thousand of which can be had on hire at any time; and a stock of printed posters, etc., of which we will speak anon.

The ground floor, on which are the public and private offices of the warehouse, contains many stock and manufacturing departments, of which we will merely describe a few. In the silk-banner manufacturing room, in which are nine sewing-machines, we saw many beautiful banners in the course of completion. The general wholesale and retail shop, where you may, at a moment's notice, obtain flags of all nations—flags used in the code of international signals, house and decorative flags, and ecclesiastical banners. In fact, Mr BARLOW's heraldic bunting floats in all breezes; and has not only made for him an ubiquitous name, but also an enviable reputation as a flag and banner manufacturer.

We now wend our way through a series of stock-rooms, containing literally hundreds of tons of stock. When we say that the building has a frontage of forty feet and measures 113 feet longitudinally, being six storeys in the rear and six in the front, it will be understood that the magnitude of the stock is positively beyond description. We found 1030 kinds of posters—not ordinary double-demy posters, as some would imagine; but each poster containing from three to thirty sheets of double-demy-sized paper, printed in five colours.

We drove down to Mr BARLOW's fire-work factory, at Teuchar Hill, Govan, which covers about six acres, and is licensed by Act of Parliament. On the occasion of our visit, Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of explosives was taking a walk through the factory. After we had explained to us the modus operandi of producing Bombay lights, Roman candles, Signal rockets, golden fountains, and various other wonderful productions, including shells, whose report is equal to a twelve-pounder, and had carefully gone through the warehouse, packing-room, rocket-room, filling and charging shops, we concluded that it would be wise for us to keep as far away from describing, in minutiae, this wonderful and secret industry, as we did from the large magazine. Mr BARLOW having frequently to furnish these goods on very short notice, is prepared to dispatch goods at five hours' notice, and, if necessary, attendants for grand pyrotechnic displays at prices ranging from £5 to £1000. It would be a breach of confidence, had we the power to do so, to describe how these fire-works are produced. Mr BARLOW has devoted his life to this industry, and is, to-day, the universally acknowledged pyrotechnic artiste. Certainly, we were taken altogether by surprise when we saw the magnitude of his premises, and got to know the ramification of his trade. The numerous testimonials from the large corporate bodies, noblemen, and others, that can be seen on application, say far more than we can as to the great success Mr BARLOW has achieved.

FLAGS AND FLAG MAKING

NOTE.—Illustrated Catalogue sent Post Free on receipt of Post Card giving address where to be sent

The study of heraldry has in modern times fallen into discredit with the multitude, but it still has its practical uses, and a knowledge of the laws and principles of the art, or rather, science, has valid pretensions to be included in our curriculum of polite accomplishments. A precise acquaintance with all its details is not now required except from those whose professional duties have to deal with matters pertaining to mediæval art, but the education of a gentleman can scarcely be regarded as complete unless he is able to distinguish the armorial bearings of his own country and its sovereign, as shown in the various flags, coins, and emblems in common use. Heraldry, too, is a part of history, throwing light upon events which would be otherwise obscure. It is not, however, our purpose to deal with heraldry except so far as its principles are involved in the emblazonment of banners, pennons, standards, ensigns, pendants, flags, colours, and signals. It may be supposed that the single word "flags" should be sufficient to include the whole category; but heraldry is nothing unless it be precise, and it would be an unpardonable error to call the royal "standards" by any other designation, to confound the national "flag" with the "colours" of a regiment, or to transpose the names of "ensigns," "jacks," "house flags," and "signals." The generic name of "hunting" is applied to ship flags indiscriminately, but it is a term unknown to heraldry, and relates only to the material on which the ensigns are displayed.

Although banners and flags usually borrow their emblazonments from coats of arms, there can be little doubt that the use of the former preceded that of the latter. The Fourth Book of Moses supplies the proof in support of the theory. We are there told that the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron and ordered that "every man of the children of Israel banners at a very early period. There is no occasion to trace through every age a custom which soon became universal, and we may at once proceed to notice the uses of flags, their varieties, and their manufacture, as we find them in the present day, with special reference to those of our own country.

THE ROYAL STANDARD OF ENGLAND, is composed of the arms of ENGLAND, SCOTLAND, and IRELAND, and is displayed indifferently on sea and land, offering a contrast in this respect to the royal standards of other countries, notably that of Russia and Germany, whose Emperors have separate standards afloat and ashore. The members of the ROYAL FAMILY OF ENGLAND take the royal standard with their father's badge in the centre, and a label across showing the relationship. In this also our practice differs from that of other nations, where each member of the royal family and every grand duke has his own standard.

shall pitch by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house." In the Bible Society's French version the phrases are rendered thus:—"Les enfants d'Israel camperont chacun sous sa bannière, avec les enseignes des maisons de leurs pères." A student in heraldry would no doubt prefer the latter rendering of the text, and it is certainly the more grammatical, but the two versions are sufficiently close to illustrate the use of standards, ensigns, or

The history of the UNION JACK is in some respects peculiar. It is really the national flag, and is the essential part of every ensign. It contains the ancient charge of the red cross of St. George, though not in its ancient simplicity, for it has been so amalgamated with the crosses of ST. ANDREW and ST. PATRICK that the integrity of each is somewhat compromised.

Experts in heraldry assure us that in effecting this compromise the principles of the science have been violated, but the authorities who sanctioned the successive alterations are certainly as worthy of confidence as the critics are. Prior to 1707 the Jack was charged with the single cross of St. George, but the Union with Scotland necessitated a change, which was effected by Act of Parliament, and thence forward the jack was technically described as "Azure, the saltire of ST. ANDREW, surmounted by the cross of ST. GEORGE, the latter fimbriated, argent." On the Union of Ireland at the beginning of the present century, the addition of the cross of ST. PATRICK became desirable, but there was a difficulty in the way, the crosses of ST. ANDREW and ST. PATRICK being identical in shape. How this was got over may be seen from the technical description of the flag as it now stands, which runs thus:—"Azure the crosses saltire of ST. PATRICK and ST. ANDREW, quarterly, per saltire, counterchanged, argent and gules, the latter fimbriated; of the second, surmounted by the cross of ST. GEORGE, of the third, fimbriated 'as the saltire." The three crosses are thus to be seen, although to the unobservant there appear to be only two.

The Duke of Edinburgh, as the Master of the Trinity House, hoists a flag composed of the St. George's Cross, quartered by four barges of the reign of Henry VIII., and in the centre a shield with the same emblem.

The flags most in use in the United Kingdom are UNION JACKS, AND WHITE, BLUE, AND RED ENSIGNS. The white is reserved for the sole use of the navy, the blue for the naval reserve, while the red is the common property of the nation, and may be used by any one. Yachts Clubs may have their own designs for flags, the Royal Yacht Squadron having an exclusive right to use the white ensign, while the blue is only allowed by special warrant. Clubs not having any special privilege must be content with the red. The Admiralty, the Customs, and other departments of the Government have distinguishing badges on their ensigns. That of the telegraphic branch of the Post-Office is peculiar, consisting as it does of a representation of Father Time with his hour-glass smashed by lightning. Different flags are also allotted to the several light-houses.

The Governor-General of India has for his standard the UNION JACK, with this motto in the centre—"Heaven's Light our Guide," surrounded by the sun and surmounted by a crown. Colonial flags consist of the Union Jack with the seal of the Governor in the centre. These flags are forty-eight in number, and seem of themselves to show the enormous scope of the empire. The flag of the Dominion of Canada has, in its centre, quarterings of the seals of the states of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick. The flag of Gibraltar has a castle and keys, that of Hong Kong junks and shipping, that of West Australia the Black Swan, that of Victoria the stars of the Southern Cross, that of Granada a sugar press, and that of the Leeward Islands of the West Indies a number of pines, the design of Sir Benjamin Pine. It has been jocularly said that a large pine in the centre is himself, and the three smaller ones to the right his family.

THE CODE OF INTERNATIONAL SIGNAL FLAGS was adopted about thirty years ago, chiefly through the exertions of the late Sir William Mitchell, the proprietor of the Shipping Gazette. It was for his services in this matter that he received the honour of knighthood. Previous to that time the code in most general use was known as Marryatt's. The new code requires the use of nineteen flags, which give by their various combinations 76,000 messages. In the Royal Navy, however, a special code is still in use, for which forty-five flags are required. In rapid signalling a halliard is rove for each flag. A totally different system of signals is employed in the army the flags being made of muslin, and the only colours blue and white, disposed on the principal of the Morse alphabet. There is yet another system employed for distant signalling, musketry practice, and judging distances, wherein the three colours, blue, white, and red, are used.

What are known as "HOUSE FLAGS" are adopted by all the large shipping firms and navigation companies, so that the ownership of a vessel may be distinguished at a glance. These house flags bear fanciful devices, which are often anything but artistic, and certainly are amendable to none of the laws of heraldry. But they are not designed for ornament, and the more outré they are the better they serve the purpose.

Having thus briefly reviewed the flags in most common use in the United Kingdom, it will be interesting to note a few of the peculiarities of foreign flags and standards. Saint George is the emblematical saint of Russia, but his encounter with the dragon is represented in a different way from that in which it is conventionally displayed in England. The standard of the Czar, in addition to the double-headed eagle, contains in the centre St. George and the dragon, as well as the badges of eight different states. That of the Emperor of Austria is similar, with the badges of eleven states. The Emperor of Germany displays a double-headed black eagle, with an iron cross bearing the modern motto, "Gott mit uns, 1870." The double-headed eagle represents the Eastern and Western Empire. The Polish eagle is white. The origin of all these eagles is traced back to A.D. 10, when Varus, commander-in-chief of the legions in Germany, was surprised and his army cut to pieces. The Romans lost two of their standards, a black eagle and a white one. The black was taken by the Germans, and the white by the Samaritans. It is also supposed that a third standard was lost to the Sclavi. The double heads must have been a subsequent invention. The Royal Standard of Spain has the peculiarity of being coloured purple. In the centre of the different states are quartered on a shield surrounded by the collar of the Golden Fleece. The flags of Norway and Sweden bear a resemblance to that of our own United Kingdom. The Standard of the Sultan of Turkey is crimson, embroidered with his signature, and is never used except for the purpose of signifying his presence. The flag of the United States has now thirty-seven stars, one for each state, and thirteen stripes, the number remaining the same as at the time of the Declaration of Independence. The flags of the South American Republic are simple in design, but eccentric in emblems: thus Mexico is known by its eagle and cactus, Brazil by its tobacco and coffee plant, Peru by its llama and horn of plenty, Bolivia by its mountain, sun, and stars, and Chili by its single star. The standard of Theebau, King of Burmah, is characteristic of the man, the design being a peacock displayed. The Persian standard has for its device a lion and a sword in the full blaze of the sun. Siam displays its typical white elephant. China is represented by a five-toed dragon gazing at the sun. The Japanese standard is a yellow circle upon a damask ground, and the ensign is a crimson circle on a white ground.

We venture to think that from this slight sketch of flag history, which, if space permitted might be greatly extended, our readers will be impressed with the importance of the subject in its commercial bearing, very few having any idea of the extent of the manufacture and of the varied nature of the demand for flags. Reliable information on these points being a desideratum, we shall now give some particulars respecting a recent visit paid by us to a flag factory.

FLAGS are invariably made of bunting, a woollen fabric, which, from the nature of its texture, its great toughness and durability, is peculiarly fitted to withstand the hard usage to which it is subjected in the "battle and the breeze." It comes from the Yorkshire Mills in pieces of 40 yards, and in widths varying from 4½ to 36 inches. Government flags are made from a bunting of special strength as also of width and make. Silk is also used, but only in flags for royalty or for festive occasions, and then only of special quality made by the Spittalfields weavers.

In consequence of the great strain the flag has to undergo whilst flying in all weathers, attention has to be paid to the quality of the heading, that is, the strip of flax material to which the flag is sewn nearest the mast or staff and through which the flag-line is rove, as well as to the line itself, which is made of a special kind of flax thread of tested strength and make. Flags are either sewn or printed, but the latter process is only adaptable for flags of small size which admit of being printed in the piece, or where a sufficiently large number of the same description are ordered to warrant the cost of cutting the blocks for printing.

In regard to SEWN FLAGS, the very fact of sewing together the pieces which compose the flag adds materially to the strength of the whole, for the same reason that a spliced rope is nowhere so strong as in the splice itself. Very experienced cutters-out are required for the first part of this process, and the sewing of the flags and headings afford ample employment to a large number of hands, and also necessitating the extensive use of sewing-machines, while much of the work is given from the cutting-room to out-door hands to make-up.

The PAINTING of DESIGNS on flags of silk or bunting is a distinct branch of itself, the art of laying colour on a material of such loose texture being a secret known only to a few. The artistic nature of the designs, many of which the firm are frequently called upon to furnish, make it requisite that a skilful artist and corps of assistants should be retained on the premises, their abilities being also called into action in the painting of flags of elaborated device. The printing works are carried on at some distance from the factory, and here again artistic assistants are required in the preparation of drawings, cutting of blocks, &c.

Of course the largest trade is done in Ensigns, Jacks, and Signals, and the fact that every ship to be properly equipped, should carry the two former, as well as a complete set of the latter, and her owners' house flag, will show our readers at once that a very regular demand exists for these description of flags throughout the year, and the stock kept is commensurate with the demand. The signals are in six sizes, viz., three for ships and three for yachts. There are about fifteen different sizes of jacks and ensigns, from one yard upwards, to suit vessels of every tonnage.

The manufacture of flags, of which we have given such an outline as is likely to interest our readers, is certainly one of national importance, and must always be so regarded.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

A VALUATION of the Life Business, made at 31st December 1884, showed a SURPLUS PROFIT of £300,000.

The Policies now being issued under the Company's EARLY BONUS Scheme received an additional Bonus at the rate of £2 for each £100 assured in respect of each year for which they were entitled to rank for Bonus. Such Policies after three years are Indisputable, World-wide, and not liable to extinction on non-payment of Premiums, subject to the conditions explained in the Prospectus.

A large Balance of Profits was carried forward both under this and under the under which Policies issued at non-profit rates receive, in the first place, in effect an immediate and considerable Bonus, owing to the largeness of the sum which can be assured at a low rate, and afterwards share in the Profits after their Premiums, accumulated at 4 per cent. compound interest, amount to the Sum Assured.
